

Recall of several Kwong Cheong Thye sauces and pastes due to potential presence of undeclared fish allergen

The Centre for Food Safety (CFS) of Hong Kong's Food and Environmental Hygiene Department has detected an allergen, fish, in a sample of Kwong Cheong Thye Sambal Belachan Chilli Paste manufactured in Singapore. The allergen was not declared on the product's label.

2 Further investigations by the manufacturer, Kwong Cheong Thye Pte Ltd, revealed that the aforementioned product, as well as their Crispy Chilli (Sauce), Chilli Crab Sauce, Laksa Paste and Premium Chilli King (Sauce) products could potentially contain fish allergen due to the shrimp-based ingredients used in these products.

3 As the products are available for sale in Singapore, the Singapore Food Agency (SFA) has directed the manufacturer to recall the products. The recall is ongoing.

4 Allergen in food could result in allergic reaction in individuals who are sensitive to it. Under the Sale of Food (Food Regulation), food products containing ingredients that are known to cause hypersensitivity must be declared on food packaging labels to safeguard public health.

5 Consumers who have purchased the affected products, and who are allergic to fish, should not consume them. The presence of fish allergen does not pose a food safety issue to consumers at large, except for those who are allergic to fish. Consumers who have purchased the affected products, and are allergic to fish, may contact their point of purchase for enquiries.
